

While little ones are fast asleep
Beside their beds I softly creep
And treasures there I leave behind
As payment for the teeth I find.
So every time you floss or brush,
(Yes, even when you're in a rush)
Remember me, for this is true...

There's someone here who's watching you!

To tell you the "tooth," today's a big day!

It IS a big day.
Congrats on the tooth, Skunk!
Let's show it to your brother when he gets back. I'll make sure the tooth fairy keeps it in a safe place until then.

Love, Mom
